Dear Archanaa,

January 8, 2016

Thank you for your letter. Your cause is important, but I do not sign joint letters since I get so many requests every month to sign joint petitions on various different important causes.

On particularly important causes I make my own individual statements, and this I have already done on several occasions in the case of the cause with which you are - rightly - concerned.

I send you my best wishes for your success.
